

This certificate acknowledges

Gabi Poegel

for completion of 4 CE Credit Hours in

The Sensory Exchange

Faculty:

Ruth A. Lanius, MD, PhD

Benjamin Pandev-Girard, MOT

Breanne E. Kearney, MS, MRes

Sherain Harricharan, PhD

This four-part discussion series offers participants a unique opportunity to engage directly with the authors of Sensory Pathways to Healing from Trauma, a pioneering book that explores how trauma impacts the brain's sensory systems and the role of sensory-based interventions in recovery. Each session focuses on specific chapters of the book, beginning with an introduction by the authors and followed by a community-driven discussion.

Issued On: November 5, 2025

EEG Education & Research Inc

training@eeger.com

2603 NW 13th Street, Suite 138, Gainesville, FL 32609

Ed Hamlin, Ph.D.

EEG Education & Research (EEGER) is approved by American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. EEGER maintains responsibility for this program and its contents.